

when bl man gave speech

I though helluva argument for a bl man. My colleague said about the same thing afterwards.

Which led, since we were important in the dept to a chat with speaker

in which we wrapped the same sentiments in polite softpedal. at first. But we're no rubber plants, so took on his points.
The more we got explicit the more musingly hurt he became. Hey, you have to take critics on. They want change, although we're 90% there, you fight!

Besides, his fee included discussion afterwards.

He left. Well, good speech nonetheless.